Welcome Letter

Aaron Mitchell,
Special Events Manager, City of Greeley

Welcome and Bienvenidos to ARTS PICNIC and the first-ever CulturePOP!

We're excited to launch this new celebration of creativity, culture, and community as an expansion of Greeley's beloved Arts Picnic tradition. For generations, Arts Picnic has brought people together through art, music, food, and shared experiences. CulturePOP hopes to expand on that vision and create more space to connect, share and create!

CulturePOP is about bringing people together. It's a place to discover local and regional artists, experience other cultures, enjoy live music and performances, play, create and maybe even see your community in a new way.

We invite you to explore, participate, and celebrate with us. Together, Arts Picnic and CulturePOP showcase the creativity, talent, and community spirit that makes Greeley such a great place!

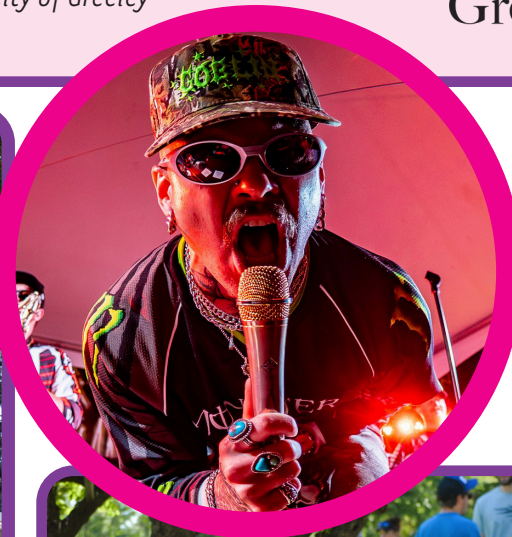

Thank you for being a part of this great event and please let yourself enjoy all the amazing things it has to offer—daily music, arts vendors, youth & family activities, evening concerts, events downtown and more!

Ever Onward!

Aaron Mitchell, Special Events Manager, City of Greeley

Transporte:

Los puestos de estacionamiento estarán limitados debido a las importantes obras que se están llevando a cabo en el centro de Greeley. THURSDAY: JULY 23 | Culture Keynote

Atlas Theater & Events Center, 709 16th St

5PM Doors, 6–7:30PM Speakers: Crisosto Apache and Becky Safarik

Colorado Poet Laureate: Crisosto Apache

Guest of Honor, Poetry Reading

Greeley is proud to welcome the Colorado Poet Laureate Crisosto Apache to our kickoff ceremony! Apache is the 11th Colorado Poet Laureate and is the first indigenous poet and member of Mescalero Apache, Chiricahua Apache and Diné (Navajo) tribes. Serving as the Poet Laureate during the America 250 – Colorado 150 celebratory year, Apache will focus on community inspiration and involvement, especially of youth, stating “I believe that words have the power to change the landscapes of hearts and minds.” Apache has published multiple poetry collections including “GENESIS” and “Ghostword” and is editor at large of Offing Magazine. Identifying as “two spirit” or “indigi-queer,” Apache does not use pronouns.

Culture Pop Star: Becky Safarik

Culture Pop Star Award Recipient, Culture Keynote

Culture is not only strong in Greeley, it is thriving! Greeley is experiencing an uptick in the arts from murals about town and more performance venues, to the new Greeley Creative Arts Center. It takes a village to create change, helped along by strong culture advocates like Becky Safarik. Becky was a founding member of the Greeley Creative District (GCD), a non-profit established in 2012, where she saw opportunity to deepen the impact of the arts on a local level. She pushed many creative projects forward, including Youth Arts Month, Do Tell! – an evening of storytelling, and the Guinness World Record Greeley holds for the longest continuous chalk drawing! After a dedicated career with the City of Greeley, including as Assistant City Manager, she currently serves as GCD Board Chair and played a major role in ushering in the Greeley Creative Arts Center where community residents and local artists alike can explore, grow, and share their creative talents.

You might catch Becky at a local art workshop, supporting artists at the Arts Picnic or in the audience at a local performance venue, and if you do – be sure to tell her “thanks!” for being a Culture Pop Star!

Rootbeer Richie | 8-9:30PM

Rootbeer Richie originally hails from Louisiana, adding a southern swamp blues twang to rock and roll. The band has made their mark on the Mile High City and has rocked audiences at the Telluride Blues Festival and Boulder Roots Music Festival, FOCOMX and now -- CulturePOP!

The Dirty Turkeys | 6-7PM

The Dirty Turkey's self proclaimed "Acid Cow Punk" style brings the house down each time, as their live shows exhibit unfiltered raw energy, that might be defined as high-octane psychedelic rock - whatever you might call it, the show will be AWESOME.

Poster Designer: Samuel Dong Saul

CulturePOP and the Arts Picnic connect our community while honoring and uplifting culture throughout Greeley, which is why the poster jury chose the cover design by Samuel Dong Saul.

“This concept explores a network of circles that expand outward while remaining connected to one another, forming a visual path of continuity. Each circle represents an individual point of presence, yet none exist in isolation; as they grow and intersect, they reveal a shared structure that holds them together. By tracing these interconnected forms, the work reflects on collective experience, interdependence, and the invisible systems that bind separate parts into a cohesive whole.” — Samuel Dong Saul

A bit about the artist:

“As a problem-based artist, Designer, and Educator based in Greeley, Colorado, my practice shifts fluidly across mediums and materials. With training in industrial design, I am drawn to how art-objects communicate across cultural and emotional contexts. As my work has expanded into graphic design, I have become increasingly interested in how color, typography, form, and cultural semiotics construct meaning—and how these embedded visual languages shape our interpretation of everyday objects.”
